

District lines follow school district boundaries. Where this map differs from actual school district boundaries, the school district boundaries take precedence.

For temporary purposes, the names of the new districts are as follows: Northern, Western, and Eastern.